We always retain personal data to the extent that it is an obligations from applicable law, as is the case with for example accounting and bookkeeping materials and records.

When the candidate becomes an employee, the employee's personal data from the application process are transferred/moved to regular HR management. If the candidate does not become an employee, the general rule is that the personal data is erased after 6 months in accordance with applicable law. Notwithstanding the above, specific reasons related to employment law may necessitate the continuous processing of the personal data. This may have different implications. For example, we may process the applications for a longer period to prove that there has been no unlawful discrimination in the selection process, when we consider this necessary. Similarly, it may be relevant to process the personal data for a limited period if a similar relevant position may become available during this period, or if another existing candidate opts out of the application process.

If you have any questions about our retention of personal data, please contact the email mentioned at the bottom of this Policy.

- 6.2 If the candidate consents to a longer retention period, we follow such period, for example if we process the application in such a limited time period to be able contact the candidate again if a vacancy occurs.
